South in state soccer tournament

By NANCY WEIL
of the Press-Record
Additional photos and stories appear in today's Sports section.

Warriors have won the tournament five times, not including the 1972 championship, the first year of the tournament, which was won by Granite City High School (before it split, creating GCHS North and South). South clinched the Edwardsville Sectional Friday night by defeating Alton Marquette 2-0 and will play Downers Grove South in the first game of the state tournament. Those in attendance Friday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville witnessed the acclaimed Warrior defense in action. Led by backs Tony Segobiano and Matt Sheridan, South shut off Marquette strikers John Stone and Mike Rook, who posed the major scoring threats for Marquette. Sophomore goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame recorded his 18th shutout against Marquette and, although he appeared tentative in the opening quarter of the game, he came to life to make several spectacular saves.

Although only 15-years-of-age, Blasingame has proven to be one of the better goalkeepers in the state according to statistics compiled by the "Chicago Sting High School Newsletter."

Although the defense was forced to play back farther than usual, the Warriors outshot the Explorers 12 to 9.

With only eight seconds left in the first quarter, Barry Grote scored on an assist from Bill Hency on a corner kick.

The 1-0 lead held until the third quarter, when Phil Harizal, a senior forward who has often been overshadowed this season, scored the second goal on an assist from Grote at 43:32.

As soon as he scored, Harizal fell to his knees in the goal area. His teammates swarmed around him and fans screamed for joy as the Warriors locked the game up 2-0.

South will enter the state tournament with a 26-2 record and this year marks the first time the Warriors have finished the regular season with 20 wins. Marquette finished its season with a 25-2 record. The Explorers' only other loss came to Alton High School during the regular season. Marquette came back to avenge that loss by defeating the Redbirds 2-1 on a penalty kick in the regional tournament.

After the Marquette game, South Coach Gene Baker was somewhat subdued. Obviously happy about the win, he said the team now must concentrate on the state tournament—something he has done seven times before. But with soccer competition growing throughout the state, it never gets any easier, Baker's expression indicated.

ON TO STATE! A cheer goes up as the 1982 sectional soccer championship plaque is presented Friday to the Granite City High School, South Warriors after defeating Alton Marquette High School 2-0 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The victory clinched the Warriors a berth in the state championship tournament. The Warriors will begin state play Friday at New Trier High School in Winnetka.

GC liquor licenses still exceed limit

By GEORGE ANN McKEE
of the Press-Record

The city attorney nodded his head yes last week when an alderman asked if the council must first amend the city's liquor license ordinance before Mayor Paul Schuler, liquor commissioner, could grant a license in excess of the number in the municipal code book.

The inquiry on procedures was apparently the first since the total number of liquor-serving licenses began exceeding the ordinance limits more than a year ago.

The issue surfaced Friday when Albert Fowler, preparing to reopen the former Barrel Restaurant, 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, appeared before the council and made his request for the 46th such license in the city. Class A licenses are limited to 39.

"Godfather's," Granite City Pizza Corp., 20 Nameoki Village Shopping Center, was granted a liquor license Aug. 2 without prior council action. Grandfathers then was the 46th applicant. The number dropped back to 45, when the Granite City Racquetball Center allowed its license to expire Oct. 31.

Alderman Jake Varadian, Fifth Ward, made the motion to bring in an ordinance amendment after he learned that no more licenses were available.

Alderman Sam Whitmer, Third Ward, who had asked City Attorney John Papa if an amendment was necessary, said he was under the impression a special permit with the agreement of the council was all that had been needed for new liquor licenses in the past.

The Press-Record questioned the practice of issuing those "special permits" to surplus applicants in a May 20 article. No permission for special permits exists in the current ordinance, with the exception of short-term licenses granted religious and fraternal organizations for special events.

The mayor told council members they do not have the power to tell him, as liquor license commissioner, to whom licenses will be issued, but they do have the right to regulate the number of licenses to be issued.

The aldermen then approved on a voice vote a motion to bring in an amendment granting an addition license for Fowler, with the intent that the "extra" license number revert back to the original ordinance form if Fowler's license is terminated. That still would leave six more licenses than allowed by ordinance.

According to the city's Alcoholic Liquor Dealers' Ordinance, the retail sale of packaged liquor also is limited under Class B ordinance. The law limits to eight the number of dealers of packaged liquor.

Although the city has issued only seven licenses for packaged liquor stores, approximately 11 Class A taverns, lounges and restaurants also hold Class B licenses for the sale of packaged liquor, about 10 more than allowed by city ordinance.

Road deterioration forecast

Concern is developing in Madison County over the outlook for rural roads and bridges, now that voters have rejected a proposed road tax increase.

Les Miller, county highway superintendent who has been with the department 35 years, says vital maintenance projects are being delayed indefinitely because of the financial problem associated with a rigid tax rate ceiling and rising pay, material and equipment costs.

Among the programs likely to be affected are plowing of snow off county highways. Some plowing is planned but it may be on a reduced scale, compared to past years.

Last week's ballot proposal would have raised the rate limit from 10 to 12½ cents, potentially providing another $250,000 to $300,000 in yearly revenue.

The county has been utilizing only 7½ cents, and Assistant Supt. David Dietzel asked the County Board's finance committee last month to levy enough to utilize the full 10-cent rate. The committee disagreed, noting that it also has been cutting the budget of other county departments.

Along with rejecting the request, another 10 percent road revenue cut was voted by the committee. Final county budget action is set for Nov. 17. Miller says layoffs will be necessary and the number of miles receiving asphalt and chips will be reduced.

Fire at BOF this morning

Granite City firefighters responded to an electrical fire in the Basic Oxygen Furnace building at Granite City Steel at 5:45 this morning. The fire originated in overhead high voltage cables enclosed in metal "runners," similar to conduit, which services the BOF building.

The metal runners had to be torn apart by firefighters before the fire could be extinguished. Electrical service to the first, second and third levels of the structure appeared to have been affected by the fire, according to a city fire department spokesman.

Damage to the cables and runners was reported as "considerable." The steel company's fire department also responded and an investigation into the cause of the fire is underway by the company.

City firefighters were on the scene for approximately two hours.

Governor race still undecided

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Democrat Adlai Stevenson defeated Gov. James R. Thompson, Republican, in Madison County 33,352 to 29,345 (compared to 33,114 to 29,349 in the unofficial return), the official county canvass showed Saturday.

This 242-vote gain (from a 3,765 lead to 4,007) still leaves the former U.S. senator 6,960 votes behind, statewide. But the difference between the two continues to fluctuate and the race remains undecided. Thompson at present has 1,814,925 and Stevenson has 1,807,965.

The governor and his running mate, George Ryan, raised their arms in victory at a press conference Friday before Thompson departed for a vacation in Florida. Stevenson informally predicted he and Grace Mary Stern will win the governor and lieutenant governor offices, and the Democratic standard-bearer then returned to his farm in Hanover.

Most canvasses are expected to be completed by late this week, and the State Board of Elections is to certify the results Nov. 22. Inauguration day is Jan. 10 but it is uncertain whether it will be known, even then, who should take the oath of office.

If the apparent loser pays a fee and seeks a recount—all ballots in the state have been ordered kept intact—a panel of three central Illinois circuit judges (probably two Democrats and one Republican) would carry out the task.

Recount results would not automatically change the designated winner but could be used in a challenge before the Illinois Supreme Court, composed of four Democrats and three Republicans. The high court would have six months to decide whether to reverse the outcome.

Both sides expect the race to be decided by fewer than the 36,977 votes by which William G. Stratton won a second term as governor in 1966. Some officials say the eventual margin could be several thousand or, perhaps, just a handful of votes.

The process under way this week involves correcting errors, such as number transpositions, duplicate tallies, uncounted absentee ballots

MEET YOUR NEW GOVERNOR?

State seeks Stix assets here

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Granite City Attorney Irvin C. Slate Jr. will assist Trustee Harry O. Moline in recovering assets wrongfully diverted from the now-defunct Stix & Co. stock brokerage.

The court-appointed trustee last week obtained authorization from the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in St. Louis to have Slate appointed to represent him in recovering any and all Illinois property illegally acquired with Stix funds.

Currently trying to locate about $14 million in assets, Moline said the services of Slate are today to pursue claims in this state.

Slate said he has agreed to accept the appointment but has not yet had an opportunity to confer with Moline on details of the task.

Both real estate and financial accounts are viewed as likely targets of the trustee's effort to gather funds lost by clients and brokerage employees in the Stix "scam." Federal charges have been filed against five persons so far.

Moline has been active in the case for a year, since the Stix collapse in early November 1981.

Federal agents visited the main office of the brokerage after obtaining detailed information from Thomas R. Brimberry, Granite Cityman who had risen to high vice-president in charge of operations.

He has since dropped out of sight but is said to be living near Phoenix, Ariz. Court documents show Brimberry is to be charged with a tax felony, but he has not been as yet and prosecutors say they are re-evaluating their agreement with him.

While with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, Moline was instrumental in gathering evidence in the Diversified Brokers case that culminated in several long prison sentences. Granite Cityans were among the investors in that securities case.

Moline later entered the private practice of law. He was asked to act for the federal government in the Stix case due to his familiarity with regulation of stock brokerages.

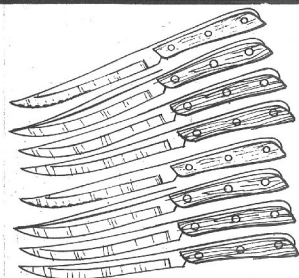

He is regarded as a low-key, thorough, highly skilled lawyer and administrator who is undaunted by highly-complex financial matters.

Assets that have been mentioned in recent months as being part of Moline's investigation include a palatial home in Granite City, another Quad-City area residence, additional real estate and a number of bank accounts involving not only Brimberry but several other persons.

Venice school financial transfers, grant proposal

The board has approved the monthly financial statements for both Venice Schools and Lincoln Technical Center as well as formally adopting the tax levy as recommended from the Venice school tax hearing.

Resolutions were approved to transfer $3,431 from Title I Fund to the Education Fund as a replacement, and $8,500 from the Transportation Fund to the Education Fund.

In other business, the board approved the filing of Chapter II application for $4,000 in block grant money to purchase three microcomputers and two printers, costing $4,000, for use in the junior high and high school. The balance of $800 will be utilized for the purchase of library books.

The board members agreed to request reimbursement from the state for protection of hazardous bus routes where students are required to cross busy intersections less than one and a half miles from the school.

Hazardous crossings include one on Fourth Street and another at Highway 3, where pupils residing on Kerr Island must cross to get to school, it was noted.

After a request from a high school student to use or rent a band instrument, the board agreed to stop lending instruments in the hope that they can be kept in good condition so the band can be reactivated in the future when monies are available for an instructor. The school has not sponsored a band for about three years, due to economy cutbacks, Supt. Robert Vickers announced.

It was suggested the school contact the Musician's Local and investigate the possibility that a member of the union could provide assistance with a band program.

After an apparent misunderstanding on bidding for a jeep truck and snow plow, the board advised Vickers to seek new bids and inform those responding that only combined bids for the jeep and plow will be accepted. Bids for the plow and jeep separately, with a total amount for both, which will be used only if a duplicate total is received.

Discussion of how snow will be removed this winter was tabled until the next meeting.

In a final action for the night, a school volunteer policy was adopted on a 4-2 vote with one member abstaining.

Chamber hears O'Flynn's optimism

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Editor

Some harsh words about the state of the economy, delivered to nearly 200 persons at the Chamber of Commerce's annual dinner late last week, were followed by an optimistic prediction, "I suspect we will continue to survive with higher style and greater success than any of us can even imagine."

The optimist, delivering that prediction was a man who makes his living trying to improve this area, James O'Flynn, president of the St. Louis Regional Commerce and Growth Association (RCGA).

CAUSES OF THE PROBLEM
O'Flynn painted a dismal picture of the current economy, describing it as "a disappointing and terribly frightening situation." Basic problems include old obsolete industrial plants that cannot compete with overseas equipment, governmental overregulation and a loss of incentives, the speaker said.

Obsolete industrial plants are a problem "which must be solved and solved quickly," he said, noting that updating of plants is essential to survival. However, he said he has great confidence in American industry's ability to achieve that goal.

Governmental overregulation is strangling American business, O'Flynn contended, stating, "The time has come. We have to initiate regulatory reform in this country." He says businessmen and manufacturers have to put up with an overwhelming number of regulations from the EPA (Environmental Protection Agency), OSHA (Occupational Safety and Health Agency), EEOC (Equal Employment Opportunity Commission) "and on and on," he said.

"We're lacking a lot of incentives that we desperately need to conduct business in this country instead of overseas. American business is rapidly moving business overseas for lower labor costs and for government incentives not offered in this country," O'Flynn warned.

On a positive note, O'Flynn said he believes the country's economy will turn around and, when it does, the St. Louis region will be in a good position to get its share, and possibly more, of the wealth.

NUMEROUS ASSETS HERE

This area has numerous natural assets, he noted. It is in the center of the country, which is important with today's high shipping costs. It has vast water resources. It is a transportation hub and it adjacent to the world's largest oil deposits and near the nation's breadbasket.

The population of the St. Louis metropolitan area, about 2 1/2 million, is just about right, he said, noting "It is big enough, but not unmanageably big."

While the economy is bad here, there are some positive points, he said. O'Flynn noted, "That $4 billion of construction is underway (in the area) while interest rates and mortgage rates are at an historic high, almost unbelievable," he said.

Delegations of civic leaders from other parts of the country have been coming to St. Louis, "We are no longer doing it. Things aren't really so bad at home as most of us think. We have to be encouraged about what is happening in this region," he contended.

O'Flynn said it is essential that a regional approach be used to attract business and industry to the metropolitan area. "We can no longer approach economic development in the usual fragmented way," he noted.

"We, as a group, have to prepare for tomorrow with innovative and aggressive programs. Today, the change has occurred and we better be prepared to meet that change," he said.

He praised Alan G. Richardson, executive vice president of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, saying that Richardson has laid the groundwork for economic development and the rest of that work should be seen in the near future.

He recommended that the Chamber continue its economic development committee and back its work, relieving Richardson of "the day-to-day Chamber activities" so more work can be done on attracting new industry to the area.

O'Flynn also recommended that the Chamber join the Southwestern Economic Development Council (SWEDC) and pledged that, if the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce joins, he will recommend to the RCGA that it fund a comprehensive marketing program for the area in 1983. "We are willing to devote a great deal of money and resources to pull together," he told the audience.

TURNAROUND PREDICTED

He concluded, "I am firmly convinced our economy will begin to turn around nationally and I am absolutely convinced that the Midwest will get its share of plants and businesses. I also am firmly convinced the St. Louis metropolitan area will get its fair share of the goods of a healthy economy."

O'Flynn was introduced by Terrence Seabolt, master-of-ceremonies for the evening. Seabolt also introduced Richardson, who said that the work being done by himself and the Chamber's economic development committee has been worthwhile.

"We now have the information necessary to supply companies looking at the Tri-City area and companies already here wanting to expand," Richardson said.

He praised several groups for assisting in the economic development area, including the RCGA, Illinois Power, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission.

GOOD NEWS NEAR?

"We are working with several companies looking at expanding or locating in the Quad-City area. Hopefully, in the new few weeks, we hope to have some major announcements about new businesses to locate here," Richardson said.

There had been speculation that Richardson was to make several "major announcements" at the Chamber dinner, but he said candidly that some of the things he hoped to announce are taking longer than expected.

However, in a note of optimism, Richardson stated, "I look forward to another year and I think we are going to have a very successful year in the area."

New officers for the 1982-83 year were installed by Eric Robertson. In the men's division, the new officers are: president-William Donovan, plant manager of American Steel Foundries; first vice president-Seabolt, vice president of industrial relations at Granite City Steel; second vice president-William Patton Jr., executive vice president of Granite City Trust & Savings Bank; treasurer-David Schermer of Schermer Brothers Grocery, and executive vice president-Richardson.

Installed as officers of the women's division were: Mary Jessee, president; Beverly Partney, vice president; Jackie DeWitt, secretary; Rosalie Stern, treasurer, and Lela Gunnig, historian.

New Chamber and Women's Division directors also were sworn in by Robertson.

Plaques, gifts and scrapbooks of their terms in office were presented to the outgoing Chamber president, David Knollman, and outgoing Women's Division president, Shirley Fountain.

Donovan spoke as the new president of the Chamber and noted that, although the metals industry is "at disaster levels—our industry has to go back to 1987 to find a worse year—there are reasons for optimism." He noted that National Steel Corp. has made significant investments recently in the Granite City Steel facilities.

Amsted Industries has continued its expansion and improvement program at American Steel Foundries and other corporations have invested in the area, showing their optimism that improvement is near.

Donovan said the Chamber's economic development committee is working and is "close to good news." He pledged, as president, to continue the economic development program, to promote existing commercial establishments, to work on a community betterment program, to encourage everyone to talk up the good parts of the area and to keep the Chamber "a viable organization."

Mrs. Jessee said that, as president of the Women's Division, she will continue the existing programs to make the Quad-City area more beautiful and a better place to live.

Hearing slated on nutrition education

Nutrition—at what age, to what extent and by whom is it being taught?

These are just a few of the questions to be asked by the Illinois State Council on Nutrition at an informal hearing tomorrow. The hearing is set for 10 a.m. until 2:30 p.m. in the St. Clair County board meeting room in the Belleville courthouse.

State Rep. Peter P. Richardson, chairman of the council, is inviting those who are teaching nutrition, or know someone who is, to participate in the hearing by attending or sending typewritten testimony.

Gravestones for veterans

Families of veterans who select a burial site for a deceased veteran in a private cemetery have two options for Veterans Administration assistance in marking the grave.

The VA will provide, upon request, a headstone or marker free of charge and ship it to the consignee designated on the application. Cost of placing the marker in a private cemetery must be borne by the applicant.

A second option is that the VA will reimburse part of the cost of a headstone or marker bought privately and placed on the grave of a veteran. The current amount is $67, which is the average cost of headstones purchased by VA.

Application for the VA headstone or marker may be addressed to: Director, Monument Service (42), Department of Memorial Affairs, Veterans Administration, 810 Vermont Ave., N.W., Washington, D.C. 20420.

Application for the $67 reimbursement for a marker other than the VA standard is to be filed at the nearest VA regional office.

and even uncounted polling place votes.

In Godfrey Precinct 2 in Madison County, 11 of the 12 voting machine cards were registered in a mini-computer but the 12th—including the office of governor—failed to be recorded until the canvass led by County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

Both parties have talked about seeking an investigation of delays and other problems in Chicago and the surrounding suburban area, but no law violations have been linked to specific election officials thus far.

Meanwhile, counting and canvassing continue and the answers gradually are coming into clearer focus on such basic question as who is what, and by how much.

Miss Bowles said the Madison County Board District Five position was won by Democrat Robert L. Copley over incumbent Republican Herschel F. Beane, who had been the unofficial winner.

This change continued an election night trend that had seen Democrats gain ground on the board by winning several close races with Republicans.

The still incomplete and unofficial state count shows three Democrats well ahead in the competition for University of Illinois trustee posts.

William Forsyth Jr. has 1,400,000 votes, Albert Logan 1,343,000 and George Howard 1,318,000. The Republicans trail them with 1,016,000 for Mrs. Jane Rader, 919,000 for Park Livingston and 889,000 for Larry Gougler.

All agree that pollsters erred badly in forecasting a strong Republican tide.

One of the unexpected factors was an unusually intense registration and get-out-the-vote drive in Chicago precincts, where on the average Stevenson received 73 percent of the votes to 27 percent for Thompson.

Firearm charges against 3 men

An anonymous telephone call led to the arrest of three men for firearms violations Wednesday at 5 p.m. in Venice.

An "unknown caller" tipped police that three men were loading shotguns or rifles into a white car parked in an alley in the 1000 block of Douglas Avenue.

Police spotted a white Cadillac travelling South on Klein Street and followed the vehicle to Venice Gas & Oil at 1101 Fourth St. The occupants of the vehicle saw the police and allegedly attempted to elude them by pulling into the 1000 block of Fourth Street.

When stopped, Darrell Williams, 22, of 86 Garesche Homes, Madison, allegedly started swinging at officers and resisting arrest. Force was necessary to take Williams into custody and he was charged with unlawful use of a weapon, no firearms ID and resisting a peace officer.

Found on the floor of the vehicle was a double-barrel shotgun and police found another shotgun in the trunk, according to official reports. Tony Ford, 22, of 1049 Douglas Ave., Venice, was arrested and charged with unlawful use of a weapon and possession of a firearm without an owner's ID. Phillip Webb, 18, of 600 Lincoln Ave., Venice, was charged with unlawful use of a weapon and possession of a firearm without an owner's ID.

Another man was taken into custody, but was released when police learned he was not involved, officers stated.

Hold 2 in Pontoon strongarm robbery

Two suspects were being held in the Granite City Police Building today in connection with a strongarm robbery yesterday at Lee's Short Stop, 4021 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach. Charges have not yet been authorized and the names of those in custody are being withheld until they are charged. Authorities are seeking more information about the incident.

According to official reports, a 19-year-old man and a 20-year-old man entered the store at 9:55 p.m. Both allegedly went to the back of the store where one of the suspects broke a bag of sugar.

When storeowner Chun S. Dupont started to clean up the sugar, she allegedly was struck on the back of the head with a soft drink bottle by one of the suspects.

The other suspect then went to the front of the store and allegedly removed $75 from the open cash register. Both suspects fled from the scene. The owner of the store was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was treated for a cut to the back of her head and released.

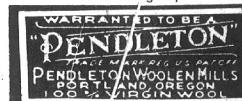

NURSE BATTERED
Steve E. Webb, 19, of 2807 Sunset Ave. was arrested for battery and was freed on $102 bail last week. Angered because a St. Elizabeth Medical Center patient was in pain, he allegedly grabbed a nurse by the arms, slammed her against a wall and voiced profanity and threats.

GC man struck on Poplar St. Bridge Saturday

David C. Barnett, 21, of Granite City, was in serious condition this morning at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, after being struck by a car while he was attempting to change a tire on his auto on the Poplar Street Bridge about 1:40 p.m. Saturday. The condition report today was an improvement over yesterday, when he was listed in critical condition.

Barnett had a flat tire and stopped his car in the middle westbound lanes of the bridge about 500 feet east of the Memorial Drive exit to St. Louis. He was out of his car when he was struck by the westbound auto of William Linch, 62, Cahokia. Linch told police he swerved into another lane to avoid Barnett, but a tractor-trailer truck beside him forced him back into the lane with the stricken car and he struck Barnett, throwing him about 30 feet.

Linch's auto then was struck by the auto of Oliver Schunzel, 57, Belleville. Linch suffered head injuries and was released after treatment at Firmin Desloge Hospital. Barnett suffered multiple injuries and was admitted.

No charges were filed against the drivers. Officials said the accident caused a massive backup to the bridge with long delays.

News notes

The stock market, after reaching a record high of 1,065 on Wednesday, continued to set volume records and finished at 1,051 on Friday, an advance of 60 points for the week. With inflation taken into account, the 1,065 was only a third of the record, however.

The Reagan administration will appeal a federal judge's decision Thursday outlawing the windfall oil profits tax.

With unemployment rising from 10.1 to 10.4 percent nationally in October, Democratic congressmen plan a multi-billion-dollar public works program. Illinois jobless rolls dropped from 12.5 to 12.3 percent.

GCHS South open house tonight

Granite City High School South will conduct open house tonight from 7 to 8 p.m., it has been announced.

Appointments are not necessary and parents are asked to stop by to confer with any teacher about their children are doing in school. Programs will be provided so that parents can easily find rooms and teachers.

COMMERCIAL ZONING MEETING RESCHEDULED

Who is picking our governor?

The Illinois governor's race continues to draw national attention, and with good reason.

As we were saying last week, Governor James R. Thompson, Chicago Republican, is ahead and Adlai Stevenson, Hanover Democrat, thinks canvasses will show that he won the governor's office. Six days after the 1982 general election, the outcome remains in doubt, even though the governor said Friday he is the winner and then he headed for a Florida vacation.

When we went to press Thursday, Thompson's lead was 38,000. It shrank to 171 and then Stevenson moved ahead by 3,000. The incumbent regained a 9,000 lead as returns from more precincts were counted. Today, with more of the uncounted Chicago votes added, Thompson is ahead by 6,900. "Stay tuned for more information," because the uncertainty is expected to remain until the official declaration of a winner Nov. 22, and perhaps for six months or so after that if there is a full recount.

Polling place records here and throughout Illinois have been impounded due to the closeness of the race. With more than 3,000,000 voting on the day of the election at 11,642 locations, the task of sorting out the precise totals could be enormously costly as well as time-consuming. And there is no precedent in the law to indicate just who ought to be inaugurated in early January.

Was there widespread fraud, or just many instances of inept handling of ballot materials? Critics should "put up or shut up" about illegal actions, an exasperated Stevenson said late last week, noting that the talk of a "stolen election" seemed to increase whenever he edged ahead in the tabulations.

As he noted, no actual law violations have been pinpointed. Chicago reports show that some poll judges took their ballots to designated sites and found them closed; baffled about what to do next, they returned to their voting places, found them locked, and went home with their records.

It is the wrong way to run an election, and additional "fool-proof" procedural safeguards ought to be enacted immediately by the General Assembly to assure more fully the accuracy and integrity of Illinois voting. If wrongdoing is found in this election, the persons responsible should be punished to the full extent of the law.

We find little excuse for judges who failed even to turn their ballots in until Thursday, two days after the election. Neither should there be any excuses for the 35 Chicago precincts where election judges failed to count the ballots before the boxes left the precincts.

It seems suspicious that Stevenson had more than 90 percent of the vote in each of the first nine precincts counted when the average in Chicago precincts tallied properly election night gave him only about 73 percent of the votes.

Seals were missing, broken or improperly closed on more than 40 other ballot boxes. Boxes for five precincts held no ballots.

The election judges responsible are just that, responsible. We were glad U.S. marshals were called in quickly, but it may have been too late. All that can be done now is hope that the actual winner of the election is declared the winner and immediate investigations should begin in the precincts where there were irregularities.

It is hard to visualize why there has not already been a sufficient "hue and cry" to effectively tighten up the election law. Many people think the Cook County tally was so bad once that it wrongly tipped the scales in Illinois, and nationally, in deciding one of the closest races ever. Of course, not much was at stake then—only the 1960-64 U.S. presidency.

Is all of this really necessary?

Our initial reaction was to chuckle Saturday when we received a giant envelope from the Department of the Navy containing four sheets of paper, all necessary to put two small classified advertisements in the paper. The smirks on our faces, however, soon disappeared as we began wading through all of the requirements.

It was all there. The form entitled "Revisions to the General Provisions of DD1557" was there, the warning that the "government payment procedures are simple but strict, designed to protect the government and the taxpayer," was there.

The insertion order was there. The code number was there. The affidavit which the Press-Record has to fill out and send back to the Navy was there. The notice, "This is a firm order ONLY if your price does not exceed the maximum line item or total price in the schedule," was there.

Everything was there, all neatly contained in a 10-by-15-inch envelope, the largest envelope we received all week (certainly not the thickest, but the envelope hung out over the edges of our mail stack).

All to insert a 10-line and a 15-line advertisement in the Press-Record. We doubt the ads will appear today. We just got the envelope Saturday and look at all the paperwork we have to do before we can run them.

Then think of all the paperwork the Navy will have to do before they can pay us. Somewhere in the forms it says that the Navy Regional Finance Center will issue a check for $9.80 approximately three weeks after the necessary materials are returned to them, including a copy of the ads.

So, we ask our readers to please watch for the Navy's classified ads this week. You have a right to read them. Imagine how many of your tax dollars went into the preparation and filing out of all those forms and how many more dollars will be spent processing our request for the $9.80.

Galla's said, "I know of but one way a nation has of paying her debt and that is 'spend less than you receive.' If you spend more than you receive, you may have recourse to sinking funds you may modify them as you please, you may give a scientific appearance to additions and subtractions; you must still necessarily increase your 'debt.'"

If Hamilton and Gallatin were to reappear today and see the enormous debts that the United States and other nations have incurred we think they would be justified in making another statement:

"We told you what to do, you didn't do it and NOW look at the mess you're in."

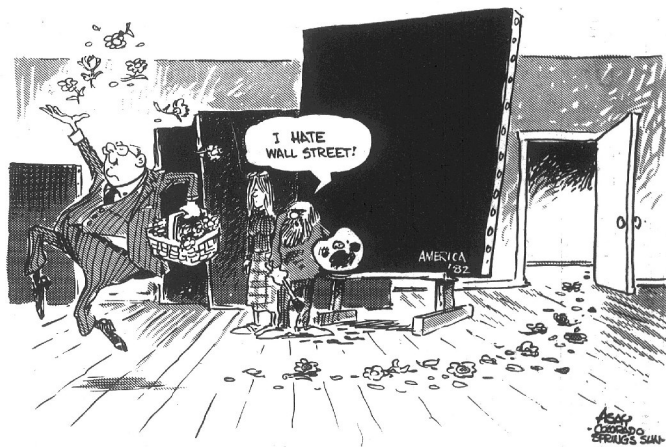

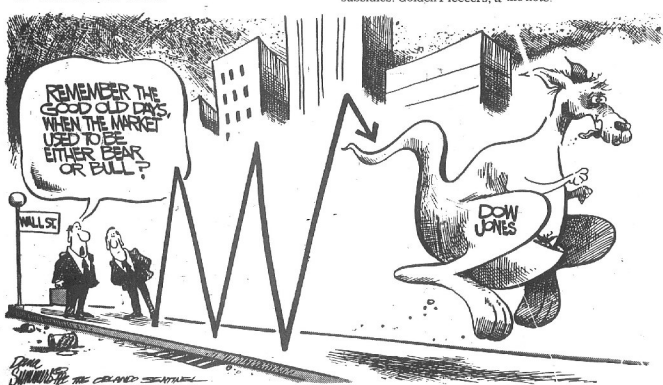

Officials eating high on the hog

Here's some food for thought. The government practically picks up the tab for high-ranking diners at the Pentagon, Justice Department, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Health and Human Services and the Commerce Department.

Executive dining rooms at these Washington offices were selected this month by Sen. William Proxmire for his "Golden Fleece" award.

Taxpayers paid $1.9, 14,400 last year to subsidize six Pentagon dining rooms, where the brass enjoy chopped sirloin steak for $1.50. $1.50 a meal is offered at the other agencies, where tax payers pick up as much as 92 percent of the tab.

Proxmire credits the department of Energy and Housing and Urban Development with eliminating such subsidies. Golden Fleece, it is the note.

Members of the Press-Record editorial staff surveyed Quad-Cityans last week only a few hours after the announcement was made that Governor James Thompson had barely edged Democratic opponent Adlai Stevenson and asked: Do you think there was intentional voter fraud in the governor's race in Cook County. Their reactions follow.

Deloris Boston, Granite City

"Who will ever know for sure... I hope not. I worked in the election. I think most people want to believe that it's honest."

Clifford Mathis, Venice

"Well, as for me, I'd say no. But then again, it may be. I'd say if there was fraud, it was not intentional. The ballots could have gotten wet. There could have been honest mistakes."

Linda Stroud, Granite City

"To be perfectly honest, I haven't been up on the news, but knowing Cook County and all the things I've heard all my life, I believe it's possible. If there was fraud it was intentional. Fraud is always intentional."

Tom Crowley, Granite City

"Yes, there was. I think the Republicans did it to get Thompson re-elected to a third term. He's the only governor to have a third term."

Says Bid-N-Bucks auction prices discouraged some bidders

To the Editor:

If the downtown merchants of Granite City did the business that was indicated at the auction, they must not be hurting very much.

We bought three major appliances during the Bid-N-Bucks for them. We had 6,670 when we went to the auction, but soon found out that we didn't have nearly enough to bid on very much. There must have been a lot of money spent down on the number of people that were bidding

8,000 to 13,000 or the merchandise.

Also, I was under the impression that the merchants and their employees were't eligible to participate in the auction. I saw two people with large amounts of Bid-N-Bucks who are employees of businesses that were involved in the promotion.

I don't think that it was fair to the people who shop down town but don't have a lot of money to spend. People came to the auction who

few hundred Bid-N-Bucks expecting to be able to participate, but soon found out that they couldn't.

I think the small shoppers will be driven away from downtown by this promotion instead of being enticed to shop there.

Roosevelt beat Hoover more than two to one in the Tri-Cities yesterday. Roosevelt 9,269, Hoover 4,456. Four years ago Hoover beat Smith 7,358 to 5,860. Hoover carried the Tri-Cities four years ago by 1,498 and then reversing into defeat yesterday he lost Nameoki and Venice Townships by 4,813. The Press-Record of Nov. 7, 1928, records the total vote of Hoover and Smith as 13,218. The vote for other candidates for President was not recorded. Norman Thomas was the Socialist candidate in 1928. The total of the Roosevelt-Hoover vote yesterday was 13,725 or 507 more than four years ago. The Thomas vote is not complete in our records today; five precincts missing, but Thomas had 550 in the precincts recorded. It looks like a fair statement to say that the vote in the Tri-Cities yesterday was fully one thousand larger than four years ago.

"The Ten Commandments," Cecil B. DeMille's production of a revered religious story will be shown at the Washington Theater starting tomorrow, it was announced by Harry Swan, manager. "Since the story of Moses is one of a man who came to his greatness through the trials of a rich and varied life," Swan said, "the film is a vast, unfolding panorama of drama, romance, adventure and history, building up to the devout climax atop Mount Sinai through scenes of raw power and opulence."

"As the weird wonders of the plague, the Pillar of Fire, the Burning Bush and the awesome power of God's writing of the Commandments in Sinai's granite unfold, three hours and 39 minutes pass," the local theater manager said.

To the resounding chant, "We want George — We want George," U.S. Sen. George McGovern — in the final weekend of his Presidential campaign — delivered a hard-hitting speech in Granite City Saturday night in which he predicted another four years of war in Southeast Asia if President Nixon is reelected Tuesday. It was a gala night for Democrats, as more than 4,000 persons overflowed the Granite City High School gymnasium for an old-fashioned type of political rally complete with waving banners, decorated hats and regalia, foot-stomping and hand-clapping — and plenty of political talks.

Seek funding for $36 million turbine at Kilngas facility

The Kilngas facility now under construction near East Alton will be the site of the first demonstration of combined cycle combustion turbine technology using low-Btu gas derived from high-sulfur Illinois coal.

Governor James R. Thompson said he submitted his recommendation for funding of the $36 million demonstration project.

The Allis-Chalmers Corporation's Kilngas facility is under construction at Illinois Power Company's Wood River generating station in East Alton. "Illinois has the strongest, most wide-ranging and effective coal program in the country, a program that has put Illinois in the front on coal development," the governor said.

"We are proving technologies already available for using Illinois coal and we are continuing to seek new and better ways to use Illinois coal. The Kilngas project is an important part of this effort. The state of Illinois, in partnership with Allis-Chalmers, a consortium of utilities and the Electric Power Research Institute, is working hard to develop a way to gasify Illinois coal to produce a clean-burning fuel," he added.

A recommendation for $6 million in state Coal and Energy Development Bond Funds to test and demonstrate the application of a combustion turbine system fueled by coal gas was presented by the governor to Illinois Energy Resources Commission Chairman Ralph Dunn Sunday.

The ERC is a legislative advisory body which has approved authority for Coal Bond Fund expenditures. The request is the most recent in a series of projects in the Governor's Coal and Energy Development Program drawing on the $65 million bond fund. The recommendation was presented to the governor by the Department of Energy and Natural Resources.

Allis-Chalmers is seeking the balance of funding, after the $6 million in coal bond funds, from U.S. utilities for the second phase of the project. The combustion turbine demonstration is to be integrated with the Kilngas coal gasification facility, which is now more than 50 percent completed. The gasification project, under development since 1971, will demonstrate the use of high-sulfur Illinois coal to produce a low-Btu gas which can be used as an environmentally-acceptable fuel. The state is providing $18 million in coal bond funds for that project.

The overall Kilngas project will use 600 tons of Illinois coal per day. Construction on the turbine is expected to begin later this year, creating about 75 more construction jobs and about 100 jobs for operators, supervisors and related services.

During the demonstration program, an estimated $20 million will be spent in Illinois for wages, interest payments, construction materials and equipment. According to Allis-Chalmers officials, by the year 2000, as many as 16,850 additional jobs, including 6,500 new jobs in mining, could be created, another 17.5 million tons of high-sulfur Illinois coal would be required and an additional $700 million would be invested in Illinois mines.

Volunteers being sought now during Hospice Week

By DEBORAH WILLIAMS

St. Elizabeth

Hospice, a program of hospice care for persons with a life threatening illness, is being recognized this week during National Hospice Week. St. Elizabeth Medical Center is participating in this nationwide event by focusing attention on the most important aspect of the hospice program, the volunteer.

In 1981, a total of 87 patients received care through Hospice of Madison County. "Our regular Hospice staff consists of seven people," said Nina Millert, director of Hospice. "Without the help of our well-trained volunteers, the care of these patients could not have been possible."

"While the help of our directors may be in the head, the doctors, nurses and professional staff is the arms, eyes and ears, the volunteers who aid in improving the quality of remaining life for both the patient and the family, are the heart and soul of the hospice program."

Hospice volunteers come from all walks of life. They can be men or women, young or old, doctors or high school drop-outs, a homemaker, retired person or a student. Race, religion, economic status, nationality or physical handicap does not prevent one from becoming a hospice volunteer.

The only basic qualifications for being a volunteer are a sympathetic approach to fellow human beings, sensitivity to the needs of others and a sincere desire to help maintain the dignity and sense of self-worth of a dying patient. Volunteers must be 18 years or older, with the exception of clerical and fund-raising assistants, for which the minimum age is 16 years.

The primary goal of the volunteer is to provide a feeling of caring, warmth and understanding to the patient and the family. One of the hospice credo states, "The end of life, like the beginning, needs to be recognized and accepted without fear and with the assistance of family, friends, and the community."

Hospice volunteers serve in many areas such as public speaking, teaching and training other volunteers, and bereavement. Volunteers include the medical staff, the board of directors and various committees, determine general policies, handle fund raising and public relations, establish standards of care and evaluate the over-all performance of the program; hospice volunteers who are the eyes of the staff, keep records, maintain the mailing list, answer the phone, and contribute their knowledge and skills to help patients and families with particular problems, including financial counseling, funeral arrangements, estate planners and others; Also, the volunteers who visit the patient at home to help both the patient and family cope with the helplessness and loneliness which accompany terminal illness; and the volunteers who assist in supporting the survivors through the bereavement phase, providing companionship and friendship as well as the emotional turmoil of separation and of rebuilding a new life without the loved one.

Volunteer selection is done very carefully. "It is important that they are dedicated and supportive of the staff, the patients and the program," said Mrs. Lybarger, director of Hospice volunteers. "If accepted, volunteers participate in an intensive training program," she noted.

The formal orientation course consists of 12 to 18 hours of classroom time, divided into weekly sessions of two or three hours each and includes some required reading. The format consists primarily of group discussion and interaction. After completion of this training, volunteers are expected to give at least a one-year commitment and an average of four hours per week of service.

Hospice volunteers meet regularly the first Thursday of each month at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for further education, support and information. Each volunteer also attends educational meetings throughout the year and any special meetings called concerning hospice or the family patient care.

"The help of a new group of volunteers completed the hospice training program and were awarded the Volunteer Training Certificate. They are Debra Hill, Deanna Schrader, Philip James, Christy Baner, Wanda Kamphefer and Rita Keiser. A special training course on bereavement also was completed by, and Bereavement Training Certificate was awarded to, Rev. Ray Kelley, Rita Keiser and Wanda Kamphefer. Mrs. Lybarger said new volunteers are always needed and there currently is a special need for volunteers from the Edwardsville, Troy and Highland areas."

"The Granite City area has been the core of the Madison County Hospice program and most of our hospice patients there," said Mrs. Lybarger. "Now Hospice is reaching out to areas within a 25-mile radius of Granite City and we are desperately looking for people from these areas to help us provide the necessary care for our hospice patients there."

The fear of being left alone is very common among terminally ill patients. When the volunteer is present, specific activities which take place are often less important than the mere fact that someone is offering companionship to a patient who otherwise would be lonely or withdrawn. The volunteer also provides relief for family members, so that they may perform their normal day-to-day activities.

The visit may be the most important event in a patient's day and shows that the world still cares, she noted.

JEWELRY STOLEN
A bedroom in the home of Larry Brown, 208 Granite St., Venice, was discovered burglarized and two jewelry boxes taken, according to a report by the owner during the weekend.

Brown said he was taking a nap and, when he awakened, he found the back door had been kicked in and the bedroom damaged. Jewelry taken included a watch with diamonds, garnet ring with diamonds, gold ring with diamonds and assorted men's jewelry.

Train hits car on 20th Street
A Norfolk & Western train engine backed into a car at the 20th Street railroad crossing at about 6:30 p.m. Friday. No injuries were reported.

The driver of the car, Bernice McCallie Reed, 68, of 2120 Missouri Ave., told a police officer she was driving west and the railroad gates were up. She had traveled over the set of tracks and started to cross the second set when her car was hit.

No estimate of damage to the train or the front of her car was available.

GC may go to court

Granite City could take the city of Madison and several surrounding township to court if disputed ambulance retainer fees go unpaid.

Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer, chairman of Granite City's ambulance committee, said he will suggest the council take legal measures if neighboring municipalities refuse to pay past monthly retainer fees.

The fees were collected four months before those communities pulled away from the city's ambulance services.

Venue Township severed its ambulance contracts with the city last May when an amended contract, including higher fees and the retainer, were ordered by the Granite City Council. Nameki, Chouteau townships, Ponton Beach and Madison were ordered to pay.

A meeting last week, attended by Whitmer, Nameki Township Supervisor Harry Briggs, Chouteau Supervisor Walter Sparks, Madison City Councilmember Albert Housh, and Granite City officials ended in a deadlock.

Granite City Comptroller Joseph Miklovic told the government attorneys that if this city called the meeting in an attempt to communicate before legal means become necessary.

The Nameki Township Board will meet tonight to once again consider the retainer fee it has opposed in the past.

Briggs, who has maintained his opposition to the retainer fee and the payment for calls made in Chouteau for non-residents, said that Chouteau never agreed to the ambulance amendment containing the retainer fee. If the matter reaches the courtroom, Sparks said, he does not know how a court could hold to an amendment we didn't agree to.

According to the city, Chouteau Township owes $2,380 in ambulance fees, including $500 in retainer fees. Sparks maintains the bill is $128.

Bookkeepers for both Chouteau and Granite City remained after last week's meeting to review the billing procedures and the addresses of ambulance calls.

Free cheese this Friday

Granite City and Chouteau and Nameki townships will each be distributing free cheese to the residents of their respective residents only on Friday.

The Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission will again act as the local distributing agent for the cheese donated by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Persons acquiring cheese will be asked to declare that they are of low income households.

Granite City, Chouteau and Nameki will require those receiving the cheese to show some form of identification proving residency in the township distributing the cheese. No particular type of identification is required, but could include Public Aid cards, medical cards, unemployment cards, drivers' licenses or utility bills.

Granite City will receive 2,500 pounds of cheese. Low income residents may pick up the cheese on a first-come, first-served basis beginning at 9 a.m. in the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center, 1800 Kirkpatrick Homes, off Nameki Road.

Nameki Township will be allotted 1,500 pounds of cheese for its residents. Supervisor Harry Briggs advises residents to come early, due to the small amount of cheese to be given out. Cheese distribution will start sometime between

$5,000 winner in Pepsi game

For all those who have spent countless quarters to buy Pepsi-Cola since the company announced the beginning of the challenge game, there is hope.

William G. Houghton, an Army recruiter at the office at 3675 Nameki Rd., recently won the top money prize of $5,000 in the Pepsi challenge game. Oddly, both sides of Houghton's matching pop tops came from the same six pack of Pepsi purchased at the Schnuck's Store in Crossroads Plaza.

Friends were coming to visit his home in Spanish Lake, Mo., so Houghton stopped and bought the six pack of regular Pepsi — he usually drinks only diet Pepsi.

As he opened the soft drink, the winners looked at the tabs to see if any matched and came up with the winner. This happened on a Friday at 4:30 p.m., so Houghton waited until last Monday and went to collect his check from Morris Miles, vice president of sales at Pepsi-Cola Bottling Inc. in Alton.

"I was shocked, I couldn't believe it," Houghton said. Although he did not scream like the winners on the TV commercials, his wife, Mary, was more than happy to lend the vocal backing.

"She did the screaming," he said.

"I've been waiting all this time for $5,000," said Houghton, who drinks "four or five Pepsis a day."

As soon as the check was cashed, Houghton took his wife and four children out to eat and then to the toy store.

He also thanked the manager of Schnuck's.

Few matching halves for $5,000 have been issued in the game, which offers cash prizes and instant winners.

Miles noted that within hours of Houghton's winning, there was a $5,000 winner in Collinsville.

Mr. Sugg was a member of Temple Baptist Church in Madison.

Her husband, Earl Sugg, died in 1947. Also preceding her in death were sons, Kenneth, who died while an infant, and Richard Sugg, who died last October.

Warriors shut out Marquette; state begins Friday

EDWARDSVILLE Tony Segobiano, Granite South fullback, hugged the Sectional trophy Friday night, smiled and then held it aloft. Forward Phil Harizal, a senior who had scored the second goal of South's 2-0 win over Alton-Marquette, gave a huge, but weary smile.

There was happiness over South's sectional win which allows them a chance at a sixth state championship, as band members pounded on drums and players, fans and relatives hugged, screamed and in some instances cried.

South coach Gene Baker was happy as he walked around Cougar Field at SIUE, but he seemed subdued. With the first two steps toward state accomplished, Baker said he did not plan to celebrate the victory. This week, prior to the state tournament Friday at New Trier High School in Northfield, will be hectic with practice for South and details of which teams are winning in the Northern part of the state.

Although South had held Marquette, giving goalkeeper Jeb Blasingame his 18th shutout behind a defense that kept Explorer striker John Stone from scoring, it had been a tiring game.

Segobiano and defender Matt Sheridan marked Stone, and blocked him off, his one big scoring chance came off a shot that hit the crossbar just 1:47 into the second quarter.

"It was the best opportunity Stone had. I was going to go to church he rang the post so hard," Baker said.

He credited Segobiano and Sheridan for shutting Stone out and added, "the way to play Stone is to not leave him open. He's opportunistic. He's a very good athlete."

Stone, teamed with Mike Rook, managed to push the Warriors back, something Baker was not pleased about. "We're not happy with the midfield and backs. They were not pushing up." The Explorers played a fast game against South, Rook proved especially capable of hustling to an open ball or a possible play.

"We wanted to have more control of the pace," Baker said.

The Warriors scored first with only eight seconds remaining in the first quarter when Bill Hency sent a corner kick deep into the area to Barry Grote. Goalkeeper Mike Walters hit the ball away from the area, but Grote shot from the rebound and scored into the left of the net.

Marquette came out in the second quarter intent on evening the score.

Less than two minutes after Stone hit the crossbar, he was back again. Blasingame came out on the right and Stone shot, but the ball went over the goal.

South scored again at 43:32 when Harizal, assisted by Grote, shot from the left off another Walters deflection. "I thought we played them even," said Marquette coach Joe Gentelin.

Warriors captured state title 10 years ago

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

The Granite City South Warriors may just do it again. Friday night, by defeating Alton-Marquette in the Edwardsville sectional finale, South completed the second of three steps in its quest for a sixth state soccer championship. The Warriors are statebound.

This weekend, South will enter its eighth state soccer tournament. Five of those previous seven years, (1976-1980) the Warriors emerged the best in Illinois. The other two years (1973 and 1975), South finished third and fifth respectively.

In 1974, South failed to make it to the state tournament. The Warriors lost it to their sister school Granite City North in regional action. The Steelers made the trip to state that year, but lost to New Trier West, the eventual state champion.

Last year, the Warrior five-year soccer dynasty came to an end. The Warriors lost to Collinsville in the sectional championship. The Kahoks went on to win the state title.

This year, in a sectional rematch, the Warriors avenged last year's loss to the Kahoks with a 2-1 victory. And again, they appear to be on their way.

To say South has dominated Illinois prep soccer would be an understatement. Coach Gene Baker and his kickers are the team to beat, again.

South's soccer championship in 1976 was not Granite City's first. Ten years ago Granite City High School won Illinois' first ever state soccer championship.

A decade ago, Granite City High School battled New Trier West for the state title. It's possible (if both South and New Trier continue their winning ways), for this year's tournament to be a rematch of the finale 10 years ago.

This year's state championship game is scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 13, in New Trier. If the Warriors can win the state championship this weekend, they will clinch the state tournament 10 years to the day that a story appeared "Stone had freedom, I thought he was the best player out there," he said. He referred to Stone's shot and another that hit the crossbar and indicated he believed Marquette could have won the game.

"We didn't come down here to play them tough, we came down here to beat them and we didn't," he said.

Despite his disappointment, Stone had much to be proud of. In only his third year of varsity soccer, Marquette finished this season with a 25-2-1 record.

"We're going to have a meeting when we get back to school so I can tell them how proud I am of them. I haven't told them that this year, but I think they knew it."

The Warriors, he said, did not do anything unexpected. When Marquette was down 1-0, Gentelin said he believed the Explorers would come back.

"When we were down 1-0 I felt they were not going to shut us out and we were going to get it (the win). And we didn't," he said.

The shutout was shared equally by the Warrior defense and Blasingame, who made some fine saves. At the tender age of 15, Blasingame has played effectively against some of the best teams in the area. "Blasingame, for a sophomore, didn't do too bad." He added that Blasingame was feeling the "tension" of the game. "But he's just beyond 15 and that's to be expected. He made one great save and several other competent saves."

The Warriors will play Friday at noon in the first round of the state tournament at New Trier High School in Northfield.

The Warriors' Dave Sheridan (oldest brother to Matt Sheridan) scored a 11 minutes into the third quarter to tie the game.

The Warriors won the game in the second overtime when Randy Worthen picked up a pass from Ted Gegus and passed to Wayne Canada who kneed the ball in for the score.

That Warrior team 10 years ago has remarkable similarities to this year's team.

In addition to having Sheridan brothers on each the 1972 and 1982 teams, there's a Hency connection.

In 1972, Gary Hency was a junior fullback. In 1982, Gary's younger brother Bill is a integral part of the Warrior team. Other members of that 1972 Warrior team include:

Tom Clark, goalie; Bill Schnefke, goalie; Phil Hill, halfback; Wayne Canada, forward; Pete Mushill, halfback; Carl Dale, forward; Andy Baugh, halfback; Randy Worthen, forward; Steve Powderly; Harvey Breckner, forward; Joe Grace, halfback; Abner Ybarra, halfback; Mike Demaree, forward; Tim Valencia, forward; Jeff Larner, Keith Gehling, fullback; Brad Beckhaus, halfback; John Harding, halfback; Dave Wolf, forward and Ted Gegus, fullback.

Canada, Worthen and Dale were voted to the All-State team that year. "I don't want to take anything away from these guys, but soccer today is much better," Sellmeyer said. "The coaching is a lot better and the players are more sophisticated."

Sellmeyer laid the groundwork for South's soccer program before Baker assumed the Warrior coaching duties in 1973.

Sellmeyer told Baker of the coaching, opening 10 years ago and recommended the Board hire Baker for the coaching position.

"Gene's one heck of a guy. He really made me look good," Sellmeyer said. Sellmeyer is foreign language department head at Granite City South.

Dropped passes spell Warrior defeat to Rams

MT. VERNON — Dropped passes, which have been the nemesis of the Granite City South football team this season, kept the Warriors from winning their second straight game.

The Warriors, which broke a 25-game losing streak the week before against Cahokia, dropped two passes in the end zone in the fourth quarter, and Mt. Vernon defeated South 21-12 Friday in a nonconference game.

"Doggone it, we were in the ball game," South coach Jerry McKeehan said. "The fourth quarter was all our. We had several passes which should have been caught."

Craig Kryger scored on a five yard touchdown run with 1:51 left in the first quarter, and Steve McCoy scored on a 16 yard run with 5:58 left in the second quarter to give Mt. Vernon a 14-0 halftime lead.

Tom Adamitis scored South's first touchdown in the third quarter on a one-yard pass from quarterback John Linhart. The run for the conversion failed.

Adamitis also broke the school record for most yards on pass receptions set by Joe Schnefke last year. Adamitis had 45 receptions for 529 yards this season. For the game Adamitis had nine receptions for 54 yards.

Mt. Vernon came back for its final touchdown, that quarter on Mark Edwards' 60 yard run.

South wasn't dead yet. The Warriors scored on a six yard pass from Linhart to Bob Dietrich. Again, the conversion run failed.

The Warriors continued to threaten in the fourth quarter, but they couldn't make the critical plays when they needed to make them.

Despite South's inability to take advantage of the last quarter drives, McKeehan was pleased with South's efforts in the season finale.

"Boy I was very pleased with the boys after the game. They worked very hard for this game. I was especially pleased with the way we played considering we had five players hurt for this game," McKeehan said.

The Warrior win the week before was clearly a morale booster for the Warriors. Not only did the win affect the way South prepared for Friday's game, McKeehan also thought the win would be a boost for next season.

"It helped our morale a whole lot. I couldn't say enough about the way we worked in practice this week. The difference between this season and next

Warriors' Wiser is bound for state harrier meet

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

SPRINGFIELD — Lora Wiser isn't the type of girl who gets overly excited about a cross country meet.

That's probably why the freshman from Granite City South will be the only Granite City runner in the state final cross country meet at 10:45 a.m. Saturday at Peoria's Detweiler Park.

Wiser finished ninth in the individual standings and was the fifth best qualifier who wasn't on a qualifying team. The top four teams and the top seven runners not on those teams qualified for the state meet.

Granite City South was seventh in the girls' meet, and Granite City North was ninth in the boys' meet.

Wiser's coach, Richard Harmon, credits part of Wiser's success to her ability to relax.

"She's a very relaxed runner. Nothing seems to bother her before the race," Harmon said.

Cross country runners are not the type of people who display a great deal of emotions in the first place. They, as a rule, are not visually nervous about a big meet. After the meet, they may hug other runners to offer congratulations. If they win awards or team trophies, there are brief moments of celebration.

That is the extent of the emotional release of cross country.

Lora Wiser fits into that mold perfectly. She admits she wants to be the best runner, but she doesn't get worried about winning.

"I think to myself that I'm going to do the best I can, and if I do that, I'm satisfied. I want to get up there and do as well as I can," Wiser said.

Prior to the race, Wiser warmed up with a routine of stretching exercises. She talked to her teammates and did not show any signs of nervousness.

The air at Springfield's Lincoln Park was cool and crisp with the temperature in the high 40's. Wiser was prepared for it by wearing a pair of black footloids. Teammates Mary Bisch and Mary Romine were similarly attired.

As the pack of 133 runners left the starting line, Wiser quickly moved toward the front and stayed with the leaders for the rest of the race.

One of few runners able to beat Wiser throughout the year, Collinsville's Pam Quarengi, easily won the race. Quarengi ran the 2.25 mile course in 11:10.

Lisa Judasick of O'Fallon, another runner who has had success against Wiser, finished third at 11:30. Wiser didn't cross the line until the 12 minute mark.

Although Wiser accomplished one goal of hers — doing the best she could do this year, she has several goals for the future. The main one is beating Quarengi.

"I hope to beat her, that probably rates as my main goal. I think I will have to work hard in order to do it," Wiser said.

Wiser tried to hug Leslie Simmering of Greenview, the runner who finished ahead of Wiser, while they were going through the finish chute, but Lamphier coach Lee Halberg kept them from embracing.

Ironically, if it hadn't been for Shoemaker and Connie Williamson, Lora wouldn't have made the trip to the state finals. She would have been playing volleyball with her twin sister Lisa.

"I was going to go out for volleyball, and I wasn't going to go out with cross country because I didn't know anyone on the team. I found I really didn't like volleyball, so when I found out 'Mickey' (Shoemaker) and Connie were on the cross country team, I went out," Wiser said.

Wiser has been running since fifth grade and now she is part of a major trend in girls cross country in Illinois. The younger girls are doing better in state meets than the older girls.

Of the top 20 runners in the meet, 13 of those were either freshmen and sophomores. All of the top six finishers were freshmen or sophomores.

"The last three or four years, the top runners who qualified have been young," Harmon said. "As they get older, they get bigger and heavier and they're not able to run as fast."

"You also have to be dedicated to be a good cross country runner. Some people get involved with other activities, but you have to be dedicated to be good. If you don't work, you're not going to be ready. I'm sure Lora will work at it," Harmon added.

Wiser is certain she'll work at it too. "I'm hoping I continue to improve. Every year, there's going to be a freshman or sophomore who'll be able to beat you. I'll stick to cross country, I really don't care about that many other extra things," she said.

Despite being delightfully surprised about going to state, Wiser was disappointed her teammates didn't make it. Bisch had one of her stronger efforts of the year, finishing 13th with 12:14. She missed going to state by two minutes.

Shoemaker was 52nd with 13:02. Romine was 81st with 13:35. Angela Grabowski was 85th with 13:38. Williamson was 88th with 13:41, and Tashia Symek was 113th with 14:05.

"Overall, I didn't think we ran well at all," Harmon said. "Even Lora was four seconds off her time at the course earlier this year. Of course, it could have been the weather because it was much colder than any of our other meets."

Urbana won the team title with 88 points. East St. Louis Lincoln was second with 99, Decatur Eisenhower was third with 106 and Charleston was fourth with 111. South had 136 team points.

Granite City North's boys team was equally as frustrated in their efforts. The Steelers, which took third at its regional last week, failed to qualify an individual for the meet.

Jim Robertson, the Steelers' top runner all year, ran the three-mile course in 15:58, which was good for 17th place. Robertson was the 10th best runner not on qualifying teams. Only the top seven runners not on those teams qualified.

Ken Meyer was North's next highest runner with 49th place (16:31). John Peters was 57th with 16:40. Bill Scheafer was 78th with 16:59. Ken Kalka was 88th with 17:08. Keith Bono was 133rd with 17:34 and Darren Bernaix was 111th with 17:49.

"I really thought Jim would have gotten out of the sectional this year," North coach Pete Robinson said. "We didn't run as well today as we did up here at the Springfield Invitational. I don't know if the excitement or pressure might have got to us or not."

"He (Jim) didn't seem to have the answers on why he didn't run as well as he usually does. This was a tough sectional, the toughest I've seen up here in a couple of years," Robinson said.

Two area teams qualified for the state finals. East St. Louis Sr. was second with 97 points and Triad was fourth with 155 points. Springfield Lamphier won with 80 points, Salem was third with 127 points and Bloomington was fifth with 169. All five teams qualify. North had 221 points.

Brent McLain of Benton won the individual title in 15:15 and Dedrick Flowers of (ESL) Lincoln was second with 15:25.4. Tim Ryan of O'Fallon was sixth with 15:34.9 and Tim Singler of Triad was 10th (15:44.9).

Warriors to meet Downers Grove South in opener

In the biggest upset of post-season soccer, Quincy Senior High School lost 2-1 to Springfield Lamphier in the final game of the Springfield Sectional. Quincy was ranked seventh in the coaches' poll and 12th in the writers' poll in the final rankings issued by the "Chicago Sting High School Newsletter."

Lamphier generally was not considered to be a threat. Granite South, vying for its sixth state tournament win, will play Downers Grove South Friday at noon in the first game of the tourney. The tournament site is New Trier High School in Northfield. Downers Grove defeated Hoffman Estates 3-0 in the final game of that regional and Joe Novty recorded the shutout. Malta upset unbeaten St. Charles 1-0 when Tim Garland scored on a free kick in the Hincley Big Rock Sectional. State tournament hosts New Trier defeated Palatine High School 3-0, in what was expected to be a much closer game. David Nordahl, Chris Rossiter and Sam Luback scored for New Trier and goalkeeper Charlie Talbot recorded the shutout. Hinsdale South defeated St. Rita 3-1. Hinsdale was led by striker Srdjan Grbic, who scored a goal and was credited with an assist. Grbic will be one of several outstanding prep players to watch during the state tournament.

Both games were played at the Glenbrook North Tournament early in the season. South defeated New Trier 1-0 and Evanston 4-1. Evanston was the first Illinois team to score on South and maintained that distinction for the better part of the season until the Quincy Notre Dame game. Quincy has not been scored on by more than one goal against an Illinois team this year.

The winner of the Downers Grove vs. South game will play the first semi-final game at 9:30 a.m. Saturday against the winner of the Malta vs. Chicago Public League contest. The final game of the Chicago Public League Sectional will be played tomorrow between Amundsen and Seagraves.

Game three of the tournament will be played at 5:30 p.m. Friday between New Trier and Hinsdale South. Springfield Lamphier will play Evanston in game four at 7:30 p.m. Friday. The winners from those games will meet in the second semifinal game at 11:30 a.m. Saturday.

The final game is scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday.

Tickets are $10 for the entire tournament and $3 per game and are available at the gate.

Directions to New Trier will be provided in Thursday's Press-Record.

DeRuntz qualifies for national harrier meet

Bruce DeRuntz, a 1981 graduate of Granite North, is confident as he prepares for the National Junior College Cross Country meet in Uttles, N.Y., Nov. 13.

Having lost only twice this year, the sophomore at Canton Junior College said his goal at nationals is to finish in the top 25. "I'm being realistic," he said.

DeRuntz, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene (Helen) DeRuntz, has competed in eight races and set course records in six of those outings.

At the regional championships in Champlain on Oct. 29, DeRuntz set a new course record of 25:16.4. The old record was held by Mark Reed of Illinois State University.

"I had no idea I was even close to breaking the course record," DeRuntz said. "I was surprised."

The week before, DeRuntz suffered a back injury, but immediately saw a doctor who improved the situation. But the injury kept him from running and going into the regional, he faced Jack Williams, of Lincolnland Junior College, one of the two runners who has defeated DeRuntz this year.

Steve Rosenbloom of Oakton Junior College is the other runner to beat DeRuntz this year. Both times he lost to a runner, he finished second.

But the regional surprised DeRuntz because "it was the easiest race I ran all year."

Nationals should give DeRuntz a bit more competition. His parents plan to travel to New York to see the race on Saturday. "We're very proud of our son," his mother said.

Twice this year, Mr. and Mrs. DeRuntz have traveled to Canton to watch their son and after all other races "he calls us or we call him because we're always excited to hear how he's done."

After nationals, DeRuntz will begin to consider offers from 4-year universities. Northwestern University and Eastern Illinois University in Charleston have talked to DeRuntz. He

EASON TO SET NCAA RECORD

Regardless of what he does in his final two games, Illinois' Heisman Trophy candidate Tony Eason will conclude his career as the total offense leader in the history of collegiate football. North defeats Tigers; DePew has field (goal) day

THE STEELER'S MAIN MAN. Granite City North's Darren DePew (43), the Steeler's all-time leading scorer with 180 points, played his final high school football game Friday and finished his career in style. He scored one touchdown on a 57-yard run, kicked three field goals and three PAT's while leading the Steeler's to a 30-10 conference victory over the Edwardsville Tigers.

(Press-Record Photo by Steven Wayne Rotsch)

By STEVE ROTSCH
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Granite City North's 30-10 victory over conference rival Edwardsville Friday, could have easily been billed as the Darren DePew-Allen Pregel Show.

The Steelers increased their record to 5-4 overall and 4-2 in the Gateway East Conference with both conference losses coming at the hand of Belleville Althoff. The Steelers finished second in the conference.

DePew scored 18 of the Steeler's points by rushing for a 57-yard touchdown and by kicking three PAT's and three field goals, one 26 yards and two 42 yards. His 18 points increased his school point scoring record to 180, overshadowing second-place holder, Mike Sherman's 86 points.

Pregel was the Steeler's leading rusher with 13 carries for 124 yards and was the leading receiver with two catches for 34 yards.

Hoping not to sound like a broken record, Pregel also led the Steeler defense with nine tackles and three assists while DePew was the Steeler's second best defender with seven tackles.

According to Steeler coach Tom Wyrostek, the whole team had a good game. "They came from behind twice in the first half and then they held them in the second half."

"I think a lot of them had good games," Wyrostek said, mentioning Robert Quick, John Morris, Shane Cole and Terry Rutajawitz.

"John Obenhaus had his best game of the year."

Even though the Tigers had more yards than the Steelers, turnovers were the difference in the game. The Steelers had none, while the Tigers quarterback Wendell Brown threw two interceptions. One of them occurred inside the Steeler's 10-yard line which effectively stifled one drive. Pregel intercepted the pass.

The turnover ratio has been the difference in the Steeler's season because their opposition has more total yards, 1990 to the Steeler's 1560 yards.

The Steelers, however, gave up the ball eight times compared to 27 times, 13 interceptions and 14 fumbles, by the opposition.

The Steelers gave up the ball twice on fumbles and six times with interceptions.

"The team with the fewest mistakes usually wins," Wyrostek said.

"We had a lot of good seniors this year."

Even though it was the second time the Steelers played the Tigers this year, Wyrostek didn't feel it gave either team an advantage. "We really didn't do anything different."

DePew's three field goals were run-of-the-mill efforts compared to his high school state record 54-yard field goal last year.

But he did have two 42-yard field goals, one going an extra 15 yards past the crossbar and the other just barely clearing it, looking as if he had gauged the distance perfectly. All three of them split the uprights.

DePew is the top rated place kicker in the nation and according to Wyrostek he is being heavily recruited by colleges. "He may have some ideas where he wants to go, but he hasn't made up his mind yet."

He will start to visit schools after Dec. 1, Wyrostek said.

If the score had been closer Wyrostek might have let DePew try a field goal from the 50-yard line instead of punting the ball in the fourth quarter.

"We thought about it. It's in his range," Wyrostek said.

Pregel was the leading Steeler rusher this year with 137 attempts for 743 yards, which is a 5.4 yard average. His longest touchdown run was 68 yards.

Terry Rutajawitz led the Steeler's receiving corp with 10 catches for 189 yards. But he was followed closely by Pregel, who had nine catches for 139 yards and by Robert Quick who had 10 catches for 111 yards.

Illini, Red Grange remembered

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

It was so very, very close. But, oh, so far away!

As I sat glued to my television this past Saturday afternoon and watched the University of Illinois Fighting Illini battle coach Bo Schembechler's Michigan U. Wolverines footballers for a trip New Year's Day to the Rose Bowl, my mind traveled back in time to the autumn of 1924.

I was a 13-year-old scout and the guest of the U. of Illinois at the school's annual Boy Scout Day. The Illini, then like Saturday, were hosting the mighty Wolverines of Michigan and Illinois was lowly underdogs. So, Saturday, when Illinois quarterback, Tony Eason, lined up the Illini at the three yard line with just 18 seconds left in the game, I couldn't help going back in memory and wishing that the U. of I. coach, Mike White, could call on a player of his past, the Galloping Ghost, Old No. 77, the gridiron immortal, Harold (Red) Grange to carry the ball over for the TD.

As it was, Eason called on Dwight Beverly who took the handoff and banged into the right side of the line but couldn't penetrate farther than the two. The "call," as opposed to what many Illini fans were wishing for — an Eason pass — was the time-honored (from the days of Bob Zuppke) play from Grange's day, the old "power 48," a traditionally off-tackle plunge.

But, as I have already outlined, my mind and memory drifted back to 1924 and the day that Red Grange practically defeated Michigan single-handedly in an exhibition of amazing football prowess ever seen in American collegiate football.

It was on an almost hot October afternoon in Champaign-Urbana and they were also dedicating, I think, the new Memorial Stadium, when Grange ran wild and beat the Wolverines.

Me and my fellow Boy Scouts were hardly in our seats when the opening kickoff... by Michigan... yard line and seconds later, the Illini led 6-0. Actually, it was a 92-yard return.

After that scintillating 92-yard Grange gallop, he posted touchdowns romps of 70, 57 and 42 yard runs, all amazingly... in the first quarter. After another 60-yard-plus TD scamper in the third quarter, Grange passed for another six points and finished the game with a total of 402 yards and a 39-14 Illini victory over arch-rival Michigan.

Of course, Illinois football fans will be "second guessing!" White's call of the running play from now on and the consequent loss of a possible Illinois trip to the Rose Bowl.

As for me, I say you can't fault him. At best, it was a 50-50 decision. And, the Illinois hopes for an upset victory went down the drain as a great Michigan defense read the play perfectly.

Illinois grid fans have to be proud of the job that Mike White has done in turning around the Illini grid program in such a short time.

So, what if he guessed wrong this time. That is, if he did guess wrong. My rationale for the pass is: one must go with your best weapon. And, the pass, has been Tony Eason's best talent.

But, in my memory I can still see Red Grange shooting up and down the gridiron at Memorial Stadium 58 years ago in 1924.

Funny thing, too, was how my mind strayed to the possibility of the West Standers collapsing under the over capacity crowd last Saturday. Some fans have reported, this season, that the stands appear to be trembling during games.

Perhaps, the engineers have checked it all out. If so, I failed to see it.

Yeah, Fightin' Illini.

"Shell has long recognized energy conservation as a social responsibility and sound business practice."

Paul Berney

Shell salutes Paul for his genuine concern for energy conservation, for Shell's sake, and for the local community.

Paul is an engineer in the area of heat transfer and energy conservation. He sees to it that every Wood River Manufacturing Complex employee knows what he or she can do to reduce energy use.

"Shell had energy conservation programs long before it was popular. By exploring every opportunity we can think of to save energy, we make more of a vital resource available to the local community. Compared to our energy use of the early 1970's, we now save enough energy in our plant each day to supply the total energy needs of about 75,000 households in the St. Louis metropolitan area," says Paul.

Recent energy conservation measures at Wood River include additional insulation in pipes and tanks, adding heat recovery devices to furnaces and boilers, and improving energy efficiency through improved instrumentation and the use of computers.

Shell is proud of Paul Berney. With his help, Shell's Wood River Manufacturing Complex will continue to conserve energy vital to the St. Louis metropolitan area and the nation.

Council reluctantly backs unpopular sick leave plan

Two union presidents and some disgruntled union members watched as Granite City aldermen placed an ordinance on first reading Monday night which would require city employees to produce written medical statements before becoming eligible for sick leave pay or benefits.

The latest council proposal represents another try among many in the last several months, to legislate a stricter sick leave enforcement policy through ordinance. To union representatives, the action apparently means a violation of their contracts and a breach of the negotiating procedure.

The belabored dispute might continue on to an arbitrator's hearing if the newest sick leave change is given final approval, according to Sgt. Donald Knight, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees Local 1347.

Both Knight, representing police officers, and James Strack, president of Local 253, International Association of Firefighters, left the council meeting with the opinion the change intrudes on their current contracts, allowing three consecutive days of absence before a medical statement is required.

The amended sick leave ordinance also would subject to suspension or discharge any city employee falsely using sick leave time or department head approving sick leave for absences other than illness.

Aldermen voted 11 to 3 to advance the amended ordinance to a final reading Nov. 16, although many voting for the amendment expressed reservations about the severity of the measure.

First Ward Alderman Everett Morlen, chairman of the police committee, and Sixth Ward Alderman Stephen Saltich, chairman of the fire department and water committee, opposed the motion. Fifth Ward Alderman Margaret Nomm was absent.

Saltich agreed with the union representatives that the council would be violating its own contract with the unions.

Fourth Ward Alderman Sharon Perjak, who proposed the change in her capacity as a member of the negotiations committee, said aldermen and department heads should have taken action long ago on sick leave abuse. Aldermen recently defeated an amendment that would have given department heads the authority to single out, at their discretion, certain employees for physician's visits.

Mrs. Perjak alleged that some department heads are already out looking for a "doctor" to verify their employee's sick leave claims.

Mrs. Jerkak said the city could choose to request an employee, who submits written slips which appear to be phony as who has a questionable sick leave past, to visit a physician selected by the city.

According to the aldermen, an agreement has been reached with the Industrial Medicine Program affiliated with St. Elizabeth Medical Center to charge $20 for examinations to employees who cannot visit their own family physician. The Industrial Medicine Program also would examine those employees under suspicion for the city.

Alderman Casmer Skubish, First Ward, told the council that the present ordinance has not been effective, but that the new ordinance might actually cost the city more money to uphold than sick leave losses would cost. Although city records indicate $45,000 in sick leave payouts for the first half of the city's fiscal year, he wondered how much of those funds representative money already earmarked as regular salaries, other than additional expenses to the city.

Asking the council to "hold off" on the proposal, Skubish said that certain patterns of sick leave abuse could be traced and should, with the cooperation of the department heads.

Third Ward Alderman Paul Fisk of the negotiations committee said sick leave payments are draining off the limited revenues of the city. He suggested employees found guilty of sick leave violations have their sick leave benefits revoked. In addition, Fisk reminded council members that the city has a clause in its current ordinance exempting city workers from sick leave pay if they hold an outside job or are self-employed.

Aldermen Jake Varadian, Fifth Ward, supported the motion with a "hard eye," and hoped an alternate sick leave proposal could be found.

"I know its (sick leave) been abused," Alderman

Morlen said, "But we'll have to come up with something different." He thought the cost to the city for examinations at St. Elizabeth might far exceed the fee quoted by Mrs. Perjak.

National Steel foresees profit from its interstate savings firm

WALL STREET JOURNAL — First Nationwide Savings became the company's first interstate savings and loan in September 1981. After a year of consolidating operations on two coasts and in three cities, Chairman Anthony M. Frank says he's ready for "phase 2" — making some money.

Jason leads community development

A reassignment in order to strengthen the role of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in community development activities in southwestern Illinois was announced last week by Earl Lazerson, president of the university.

He said responsibility to plan, focus and develop SIUE's community development efforts will be headed by Emil Jason, associate vice-president for special programs and minority affairs.

Jason, who has served as acting director of the university's East St. Louis Center, will work with community colleges, vocational and technical programs and local, state and federal agencies to utilize the university's resources in providing enhanced educational and job opportunities for residents of the area, Pres. Lazerson said.

Expanding on the steps planned to further the community service activities, Lazerson said he believes job opportunities for students can be enhanced by involving the university in industrial and academic training and research programs; utilizing university resources to enrich technical and work-related high school programs; expanding regional economic development activities; developing cooperative programs with schools and community colleges to meet high-technology demands of the immediate future and the 21st Century; and coordination of state and federal grants for community service programs.

Jason, who has been associated with the university since 1965, has a long record of activity in community development and involvement in minority affairs.

He was named assistant vice-president for special programs and minority affairs in 1971 and promoted to the associate level in November 1978. He holds rank as a professor of chemistry in the School of Science and Engineering.

Jason was active in the establishment of Target 2000, an organization of business and community leaders committed to improving social and economic conditions in the East St. Louis community.

He served as chairman of the East St. Louis Economic Development Commission and has been a leader in other community and regional economic development activities.

Jason was a member of the chemistry faculty at Lincoln University in Jefferson City,

The chairman of the San Francisco-based thrift says First Nationwide's operations will be fully integrated soon with the completion of a new data processing system.

The thrift is ready, Frank says, to use its interstate network to compete for consumer funds around the country with Sears, Roebuck and Co., Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith Inc., and other large financial institutions. First Nationwide, a unit of National Steel, was known as Citizens Savings and Loan Association when it acquired two failing East Coast thrifts in a hasty marriage arranged by federal regulators.

The merger with West Side Federal Savings and Loan Association, New York, and Washington Savings and Loan Association in Miami Beach more than doubled Citizens' assets to $7 billion.

Both of the acquired thrifts continue to post losses, something on the order of $10 million to $12 million a month, says Frank.

Still, he says, the merger has worked out "much better than we dared hope."

Savings outflows were staunch soon after the merger, new loan volume has picked up, and the East Coast losses, the chairman says, are narrowing.

The losses from the East Coast operations are being covered by federal regulators under the terms of the merger agreement.

Last fall, the Federal

Home Loan Bank Board estimated the assistance would amount to between $131 million and $288 million over the next 10 years.

Based on Frank's remarks and National Steel financial statements, regulators appear already to have spent more than $150 million.

The California operation is profitable "by a slim margin," Frank says, and the combined company contributed $16.8 million to National Steel's 1981 earnings.

Some thrifts in New York and Florida are grumbling that their federally subsidized competitor has the luxury of spending more money to attract customer.

The company has been sued by one New York thrift for opening a new branch in its territory.

But Frank rejects the criticism and says First Nationwide doesn't offer higher rates than local thrifts to attract deposits.

Rather, the chairman says that the improving situation is due to aggressive marketing and the appeal of the First Nationwide name, which was adopted last year. The company is one of the heaviest advertisers in the S&L industry. Advertising, Frank says, is one of several areas where First Nationwide can achieve some economies of scale, getting more media exposure than smaller thrifts can afford.

First Nationwide's strategy is to go after the middle-class customer that Frank thinks is being neglected by institutions busy chasing the more affluent "American Express Gold Card market."

It's strategy based on slim profit margins and high volume, which accounts for the aggressive marketing.

First Nationwide pushes new products with expensive-looking advertising just as if they were soap, shoes or shampoo. "We're as retail-oriented as a merchandiser," Frank says.

The low marginal cost of introducing new products already in place in California is also an advantage over East Coast competitors, Frank says.

Another advantage is the company's ability to play off the economic and social ties between the New York metropolitan area and many parts of Florida.

Frank says "several thousand" customers do business with the company in both New York and Florida.

First Nationwide has cut administrative expenses on the East Coast by 25 percent since the merger, in part by eliminating positions and cutting legal costs.

Although Frank made a point of saying last fall that nobody in the East Coast operations would lose his job, he concedes the company has since dismissed almost all the top officers at West Side and Washington.

"The top management was crippled by the past," he says. "They were justifying why they got into trouble."

The company promoted replacements from within, but the two East Coast operations are tightly controlled from San Francisco. That means a lot of travel, Frank concedes.

Parkview hosting coffee hours with administrators

In commemoration of American Education Week, Agnes P. Fryntko, principal of Parkview School, is inviting parents and friends to a coffee hour hosted by the PTA daily from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. at the school cafeteria this week, except on Thursday.

On hand to answer questions about public education, funding, programs and others will be school administrators B. J. Davis, superintendent of schools, Norman Owca, director of finance, Warren Collins, administrative assistant for instructional services, and Steve Balen, director of Special Education. Each day, a school board member also will be in attendance. Don Stucke, president, George Moore, secretary and Board Members Robert Maxwell, David Partney and Thomas Midsky have indicated they will attend.

Scholarship data offered

There are thousands of unused college scholarships and loans for which students can qualify, officials say. Students' problem is to find those for which they qualify. Student College Aid, a nationwide, computerized, scholarship locator service, with $500 million of non-government awards in its data base, searches out scholarships and loans for students. Students can contact the service at 3641 Deal St., Houston, Texas 77022, for free information and a personalized data form. SCA mails this information to the students. To use the service, students fill in the dataform as completely as possible. Information as to college major, religious affiliation, club memberships, etc., is requested.

This information is coded into the computer. The computer searches through thousands of sources and prints out those to which the student is eligible to apply. This printout is mailed to the student, who then contacts the funding sources.

Student College Aid guarantees to furnish at least five listings or to refund payment along with those listings discovered. The average number of listings the students receive is 12, valued at $12,000. The fee for this service is $45.

Students are applying now for the spring and fall of 1983. SCA has added three new services: an athletic award matching service for women and men, $15; a four-year college matching service, $19; and a graduate school scholarship and loan locator service, $49.

Probation for beating of a Madison policeman angers state's attorney

"If judges don't command that criminals respect police officers, then it's going to be open season on the police," Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber said in response to Circuit Judge William Johnson ordered a 20-year-old Madison man to pay $34 restitution and court costs and placed him under six months of conditional discharge for allegedly beating and kicking a policeman.

"There's no excuse for this," Weber contended repeatedly in a telephone conversation with the Press-Record. "It's really out of line for that to have occurred. There's no excuse for that sentence," an angry Weber stated.

Judge Johnson, who imposed the sentence, responds that there is no excuse, in his opinion, for the plea bargaining that went on in past cases before last week's sentencing. He says he had little choice in what sentence to impose by the time the defendant came before him, since two other relatives in the same case already had received light sentences.

Richard Lee Niehaus Sr., 46, and two sons, Jeff L. Niehaus and Richard L. Niehaus Jr., were arrested following a disturbance May 30, 1981, in front of the Niehaus home which resulted in Madison Patrolman Richard Asperger being taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. He subsequently was admitted.

Five police departments responded to a call for assistance from Asperger after he allegedly was assaulted while responding to a call about a loud party.

Officers on the scene alleged that a group of people were standing around Asperger, kicking and hitting him, even though he was already on the ground and bleeding from the mouth.

Several officers reported being pushed and grabbed while making the arrest and Venice Patrolman Danny McKinney sustained a torn shirt in the incident.

The scenario which led to the latest sentencing, according to Judge Johnson, began when Niehaus Sr. was charged in a grand jury indictment with a felony charge of aggravated battery in July, 1981, was allowed to plead guilty Oct. 4, 1982, to a misdemeanor battery allegation. The felony charge was dismissed, along with charges of aggravated assault and resisting arrest.

The state's attorney's office had recommended that the felony indictment be reduced to a misdemeanor battery charge, the other charges be dismissed and that Niehaus Sr. be fined $1,000, pay one year of conditional discharge and pay court costs. Judge Johnson, then imposed a $900 fine and followed the state's attorney's recommendation on the discharge, he says.

Jeff L. Niehaus, a son of Richard Sr., then was brought before Judge Johnson with a recommendation from the state's attorney's office that he plead guilty to a misdemeanor battery allegation; charges of resisting arrest, disorderly conduct and obstructing a peace officer be dismissed, and he be fined $985 and placed under six months of court supervision. These recommendations were followed, the judge says.

Then, last week, Richard Niehaus Jr. was brought before Johnson, but there were no sentencing recommendations from the state's attorney's office, the judge says. An assistant state's attorney, Richard Rybak, recommended that Venice police charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct be dismissed along with a Madison charge of obstructing a peace officer, if Niehaus Jr. pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor charge of battery, which he did.

Without a recommendation from the state, Judge Johnson said he felt a presentence investigation by the county's probation department was in order. That investigation recommended that Niehaus Jr. be ordered to make restitution of $34 for Patrolman McKinney's torn shirt, pay $35 court costs and be placed on probation.

Judge Johnson accepted the report, ordered the restitution and payment of court costs and placed Niehaus Jr. on six months of conditional discharge, with a further order that he serve 30 days in the county jail at the end of six months, subject to review by the court.

It has been traditional, Judge Johnson admits, that jail terms ordered at the end of discharge periods usually are not served, if the person on probation stays out of trouble during the discharge period. The practice has been used kind of as a hammer over their heads.

However, forgiveness of the jail time is not at all automatic, Judge Johnson says, noting that some other judge is likely to decide whether Niehaus Jr. should serve the time next March.

Since Weber publicly disagreed with the sentence, Judge Johnson has looked back over all of the documents relating to the three cases and said he feels he had not chosen but to grant a light sentence to Niehaus Jr., since his involvement did not seem to be more extensive or as extensive as the involvement of Niehaus Sr. and both previous sentences had resulted only in fines and discharges, at the recommendation of the state's attorney's office.

Weber alleged that he had been misled in settling the Richard Niehaus Jr. case. "There is little excuse for our having reduced it (the charges), but we did it with the understanding that the guy would get some time in jail. He gets out of line," the state's attorney stated. Judge Johnson responded, "He (Weber) is mistaken. Mistakes, that's the whole ballgame over here." Johnson said as he reviewed the records in the case which indicate that it was the recommendation of the state's attorney's office that both Richard Niehaus Sr. and Jeff Niehaus get probation and the majority of charges against them be dismissed. The records also show that the state's attorney's office recommended dismissal of the three charges against Niehaus Jr.

"If they (the state's attorney's office) had not dismissed all of the other charges, I am sure there would be a heck of a lot more (punishment)," Judge Johnson added.

Weber summarized the incident, saying "I certainly didn't protect the police officer's rights and security... There's no excuse for being belligerent and hitting and kicking a police officer while he was down. The judge is just declaring open season on police officers."

Veteran suggests visiting DAV hospital this Thursday

By STEVE ORDERS

Disabled American Veterans November 11 is a special day—Veterans Day, a day set aside to honor the men and women who have helped to protect the freedoms we all enjoy.

After Vietnam War wounds put me in a wheelchair, I spent a lot of time in Veterans Administration (VA) hospitals, but I was lucky because I always had the support of my family and friends.

Today there are nearly 90,000 men and women in our VA hospitals, many without close family or friends. Some will be there for a long time. These veterans need to know that they're not forgotten, that people still care.

That's why, in honor of Veterans Day, I ask you to visit a veteran at your nearest VA hospital on November 11. Just drop by, say hello, make a friend. It will make you and a veteran—feel better.

Perhaps the stories of a couple of veterans I met on a recent visit to a VA hospital will help explain why I, as a representative of the Disabled American Veterans, am asking you to do something more than fly an American flag on November 11 this year.

Take Ed, who was a strapping young man, loved by everyone, when he went overseas in 1918. Then, somewhere in the Argonne forest, a German shell tore an arm off his body.

Today, Ed's ticker is getting ready to quit at 85, he's outlived all of his closest relatives and friends. Ed tried to smile as he told me, "The younger people, they just don't have time." Somehow it just escaped Ed that I was two generations behind him. Ed's alone, he's old, and he's dying.

Then there's Tony, who's 76, has many years ahead of him. But his old high school buddies—now in their middle 30s—have long since forgotten about him.

Sometimes Tony forgets things too, due to the North Vietnamese shrapnel lodged deep inside his skull since that day, that year, Tony seems unable to place. "Maybe my family thinks I can't remember them, don't notice when they don't come here so much anymore," Tony told me.

Not every patient in our VA hospitals has a story as gut-wrenching as these. Some stories are happier, some even sadder. Only a few patients have gone to the VA, like Ed, to die. And, certainly, not all will spend their lives walking up and down the VA's wards like Tony.

But the theme of loneliness of being forgotten—is common enough in the lives of the veterans in our VA hospitals, common enough that we should all take notice.

I don't need to explain why none of us should allow Ed and Tony and others like them to become forgotten people. All of us owe a tremendous debt to the men and women who have fought America's wars, and all of us know that.

It's a great idea to show you remember the sacrifices these veterans made by hanging a flag in front of your home on November 11. And I'd really appreciate your attendance at a parade or other Veterans Day observance in your community.

But, let's do a little more than that this year. In honor of Veterans Day, the Disabled American Veterans urges you to drop in at the nearest VA hospital nearest you to visit just one or two veterans. They need to be remembered.

Madison FSA installs

All junior members of the Madison High School Future Secretaries Association kept their grade point averages high enough to be eligible for membership in their senior year. Lee Ashby, one of the faculty advisors for the Madison chapter, expressed pride in this accomplishment during a speech he made at the Ninth Annual Installation-Initiation Ceremony Monday evening at the high school.

The members of this year's FSA chapter are of the highest academic caliber in the nine-year history of the organization, Ashby said. The following students, elected by the members to guide the chapter during 1982-83, were installed: Mia Jenkins, president; Tonja Avila, vice president; Tammy Kemp, recording secretary; Joann Bisto, corresponding secretary; Tammy Malliburn, treasurer; and Nikya Vauters and Lenora Williams, board members at large. Other returning members are Lisa Starnes and Helen Reed.

Special recognition was paid to Beverly Imming by Ashby. Mrs. Imming has served with him as faculty advisor since 1974. Helen Gieselmann, the representative from the sponsoring chapter, Tri-Cities Chapter of Professional Secretaries International, told the members that she is looking forward to working with them again this year and helping them with their monthly educational meetings. This will be the sixth year that Mrs. Gieselmann has been Madison's chapter representative.

Mrs. Seibold's marks 62nd year

Saturday, Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops hosted a "Holiday Sneak Preview" open house at 2241 Madison Ave. to mark the 62nd year in the baking industry. An attractive holiday display of Thanksgiving and Christmas baked goods was featured along with a free bakery tour, free refreshments and an 18 ft. long Deli sandwich. The history of Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops began in 1920, when Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold Seibold, along with Mr. Seibold's brother Herman, came from St. Louis to Granite City and acquired the bakery of John Schlobaum, operating it as "Seibold's Brothers Bakery."

The original bakery was located at 22nd and State streets. From this location, a wholesale route to several grocery stores in the Tri-Cities was established. In the early 1930's, Herman Seibold sold his share of the partnership to his brother. From then until 1936, the bakery was known as Seibold's Bakery. Due to Mr. Seibold's failing health during the depression years, management of the business passed to his wife, Mrs. Minnie Seibold. In 1936, the baking operations were moved to the 1400 block of Neiringhaus Avenue. The store was opened under the name "Mrs. Seibold's Bake Shops." From this location, as many as four wholesale routes were operated, in addition to the retail store. During the war years, the wholesale deliveries were discontinued and only the retail store remained in operation. The store was operated by Mrs. Seibold, her daughter, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gabriel. Mrs. Seibold's four sons had been called into the service and were gone for three to four years.

On return from the service, the four Seibold boys—Charles, Bill, Edwin and Reinhold—decided to concentrate on top quality merchandise and sell everything at retail in their own stores. The first store was opened in Wood River in 1947, the same year Mr. Seibold passed away. In 1953, a new bakery plant was built at 2241 Madison Ave., its present location.

Soon after, other stores were opened in East Alton and Edwardsville. Additions to the plant were built in 1957 and the building space was doubled in 1963. With the increase in plant space, stores were opened in Alton and another in Granite City. Mrs. Minnie Seibold remained active in merchandise production until 1962. At the age of 72, she retired due to ill health, but remained active in a supervisory capacity. In May of 1979, at the age of 88, Mrs. Seibold passed away. Today, the bakery is operated by Edwin Seibold and his two sons, Larry and Michael Seibold. The other brothers, Charles, Reinhold, and Bill Seibold have retired.

Is there life after cancer?

Some people think that even when a cancer is cured, the patient will never live a normal life again.

The American Cancer Society knows better.

The Society offers cancer patients and their families extensive service and rehabilitation programs with practical help and emotional support. It helps people return to their homes and their jobs.

There is life after cancer. Two million people are living proof. If you or anyone close to you needs help, call us.

A 'vacation' from playing Sue-Ellen

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — To say that, thanks to "Dallas," LINDA GRAY is one of the most sought-after actresses in television is an understatement. The fact is she couldn't possibly find the time to do all the projects she's offered. Plus, she's very selective.

That's why Linda chose "Not In Front of the Children" as the TV movie she would do while on "vacation" from the series. It's the story of a divorced woman with two children who falls in love with a younger man. Her former husband thinks she is not behaving morally and asks the court for custody of the children.

"I wanted something different from Sue-Ellen," Linda explained. "I wanted not to be married to a powerful man. I wanted to be very real."

The character Linda plays in the movie is probably closer to her real persona than Sue-Ellen is, at least that's what Linda remarked. The character in the movie is an artist with two children and a strong sense of self.

The real-life Linda Gray has been married to the same man for 20 years and has two teen-age children. She lives on a ranch as Sue-

Ellen does, but unlike Sue-Ellen could not possibly be described as neurotic. On a typical day, Linda will leave her house at 4:30 a.m. and be on the set at 5:30, giving her 15 minutes to grab a cup of coffee.

In "Not In Front of the Children," JOHN LITGOW portrays her former husband and JOHN GETZ is her lover. CATHRYN DAMON and GEORGE GRIZZARD have important roles as well.

"This is a woman's picture," Linda remarked. "I think the viewers will feel comfortable seeing me in it."

Linda would like to do more television, although she is firm that she'd never leave the cast of "Dallas." After 18 years of being an anonymous pretty face, the series made her literally an overnight success. Plus, she says that the "Dallas" cast is like a second family.

"I like television, it moves quickly," Linda said. "I love the energy we have to keep up on the set. Yes, I'd like to do some theater too."

MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN will also be returning to work in the theater. She's agreed to join the cast of the upcoming Broadway show, "Extraordinary People," which will premiere this season.

ROBERT WAGNER is another in the long list of actors turned producers. He's done a 90-minute pilot for NBC entitled "Sierra Blue." And his "Hart to Hart" fans should not worry. R.J. will not leave his ABC series and consequently will not appear in the NBC show. You will be able to see him in two films, though — "I Am the Cheese" and "Trail of the Pink Panther."

The November election is just around the corner and CHARLES HAID of "Hill Street Blues" is getting himself rather involved. A supporter of the Senate campaign of Gov. JERRY BROWN in California, Haid has been throwing parties for his man and LINDA RONSTADT.

A quick daytime note: Viewers of the new NBC series "Fantasy" may have been surprised to see SYLVESTER STALLONE guesting on the first show. Sly doesn't often do that kind of thing — guest on a daytime show. It seems that the producer is from Philadelphia and knew that Sly likes that city's famous cheese steaks. So he sent him 100 steaks and Sly did the show.

GEORGE HAMILTON and JIM COBURN star in the ABC mini-series "Malibu," which went into production in October.
